Meet the Law Schools

DAJV LL.M. FAIR

GERMAN-AMERICAN
LAWYERS' ASSOCIATION

Cologne, Germany
May 22, 2011

For more than 35 years, the German-American Lawyers' Association (DAJV) has been a leader in transatlantic legal education and exchange. Most of our 3,000 members graduated with degrees from U.S. law schools, and many attended our seminars before applying for their American legal education. Join us and a group of highly motivated prospective students for the second DAJV LL.M. Fair.

Whom will you meet? At least 50 law students and legal trainees who are at some stage of preparing for advanced legal education in the U.S.

Is the LL.M. Fair open to the public? Yes. In addition to the around 50 participants of our three-day seminar on how to prepare for legal studies in the U.S. other prospective students can sign up for the LL.M. Fair only.

How can you present your law school? There will be a 15 minute time slot for a presentation, a small booth to meet with students and display materials, and an opportunity to schedule private meetings.

We encourage you to invite alumni of your school to come along.

How many law schools will participate? We will admit a maximum of ten law schools.

How much does it cost? € 2,000 per law school. Since the DAJV is a non-profit organization, this fee is used exclusively to cover the costs of the event.

What does the fee cover? 15 minute presentation time slot, custom-designed booth, private meeting scheduling service, food and beverage catering, assistance with finding accommodation and transportation, logo placement on promotional materials, logo placement and hyperlink on DAJV Seminar / LL.M. Fair website for at least twelve months.

When and where will it take place? May 22, 2011, in Cologne, Germany

How can I get there from the United States? Cologne airport provides excellent connections within Europe. The nearest airport with frequent direct flights from and to the U.S. is Düsseldorf, which is a 20 minute drive or train ride away from Cologne.

Until when do I have to apply? Spaces are assigned on a first come, first served basis. Last year's event was booked out within three weeks after first announcing it.
